KINDS OF SENTENCES.

1. The door is locked.
2. Ring the bell.
3. Did you read the letter?
4. How beautiful this poem is!

How many thoughts are expressed above?
A complete thought expressed in words is called a sentence.
State the use of each sentence above — tell what it does.
A sentence that states or declares something is called a declarative sentence.
A sentence that expresses a command or a request is called an imperative sentence.
A sentence that asks a question is called an interrogative sentence.
A sentence that expresses sudden or strong feeling is called an exclamatory sentence.
Tell how each of the following sentences is used, and what it is called:

1. The river has a steep bank.
2. How clear the water is!
3. Can you row a boat?
4. Fasten the boat to the wharf.
5. The carriage has two seats.
6. Look at this plant.
7. How fragrant the leaves are!
8. Please close the blinds.
9. He has sold the horse.
10. What a sweet voice the child has!

With what kind of letter does each sentence begin?

What mark is placed after each declarative sentence? After each imperative sentence? What mark is placed after each interrogative sentence? What mark is placed after each exclamatory sentence?

Every sentence should begin with a capital letter.

A period should be placed at the close of a declarative or of an imperative sentence.

An interrogation point should be placed at the close of an interrogative sentence.

An exclamation point should be placed at the close of an exclamatory sentence.

WRITTEN EXERCISE.

Write a declarative sentence, an interrogative sentence, an imperative sentence, and an exclamatory sentence, about each of the following:

- horse, cars, flower,
- rain, clouds, window.

---

Tell what each sentence is about, and what is said about the thing spoken of.

How many parts has each sentence? What does one part show? What does the other part tell?

The part of a sentence that shows what is spoken of is called the subject.

The part of a sentence that tells something about the thing spoken of is called the predicate.

Name the subject and the predicate in each of the sentences above.

LITTLE BELL.

I.

What's your name?" quoth he.
"What's your name? Oh, stop and straight unfold, Pretty maid, with showery curls of gold."
"Little Bell," said she.

II.

Little Bell sat down beneath the rocks,
Tossed aside her gleaming, golden locks,—
"Bonny bird!" quoth she,
"Sing me your best song, before I go."
"Here's the very finest song I know,
Little Bell," said he.

III.

And the Blackbird piped—you never heard
Half so gay a song from any bird;
Full of quips and wiles,
Now so round and rich, now soft and slow,
All for love of that sweet face below,
Dimpled o'er with smiles.
LESSONS IN ENGLISH.

IV.

And the while that bonny bird did pour
His full heart out, freely, o'er and o'er,
'Neath the morning skies,
In the little childish heart below
All the sweetness seemed to grow and grow,
And shine forth in happy overflow
From the brown, bright eyes.

V.

Down the dell she tripped, and through the glade —
Peeped the squirrel from the hazel-shade,
And from out the tree
Swung and leaped and frolicked, void of fear,
While bold Blackbird piped, that all might hear,
"Little Bell!" piped he.

Read the fifth stanza. How many statements are made in the first line? What is the difference between a dell and a glade? What is the second line about? Change the order of the words, placing the subject of the sentence first. Would looked express the meaning as well as peeped? Why not? What else did the squirrel do? Give in your own words the meaning of the third and fourth lines. What do the last two lines tell?

LESSON VIII.

STUDY OF SELECTION.

VI.

Little Bell sat down amid the fern:
"Squirrel, Squirrel! to your task return!
Bring me nuts!" quoth she.
Up, away! the frisky Squirrel hies,
Golden wood-lights glancing in his eyes,
And adown the tree,

Great ripe nuts, kissed brown by July sun,
In the little lap drop, one by one—
Hark! how Blackbird pipes, to see the fun!
"Happy Bell!" pipes he.

VII.

Little Bell looked up and down the glade:
"Squirrel, Squirrel, from the nut-tree shade,
Bonny Blackbird, if you're not afraid,
Come and share with me!"
Down came Squirrel, eager for his fare,
Down came bonny Blackbird, I declare;
Little Bell gave each his honest share—
Ah! the merry three!

VIII.

And the while those frolic playmates twain
Piped and frisked from bough to bough again,
'Neath the morning skies,
In the little childish heart below,
All the sweetness seemed to grow and grow,
And shine out in happy overflow,
From her brown, bright eyes.

IX.

By her snow-white cot, at close of day,
Knelt sweet Bell, with folded palms, to pray.
Very calm and clear
Rose the praying voice, to where, unseen,
In blue heaven, an angel shape serene
Paused awhile to hear.
“What good child is this,” the angel said,
“That, with happy heart, beside her bed,
Prays so lovingly?”
Low and soft, O, very low and soft,
Crooned the Blackbird in the orchard croft,
“Bell, dear Bell!” crooned he.

“Whom God’s creatures love,” the angel fair
Murmured, “God doth bless with angels’ care;
Child, thy bed shall be
Folded safe from harm; love, deep and kind,
Shall watch round and leave good gifts behind,
Little Bell, for thee.”

THOMAS WESTWOOD.

What was said about little Bell in the last lesson?

LESSON XIV.

COMPARISON.

Give the name of a tall boy in the room. Give the name of another tall boy. Compare the height of the two boys. Tell what you see.

Pupil. Clarence is taller than Frank.

Notice the heights of all the boys in your class. What would you say of the boy that exceeds all the others in height?

Pupil. He is the tallest boy in the class.

How many forms of the adjective tall have you used, to express different degrees of height?

The form of an adjective that simply expresses the quality is called the positive; as, tall, short.

The form of an adjective that expresses a higher or a lower degree of the quality is called the comparative; as, taller, shorter.

The form that expresses the highest or lowest degree of the quality is called the superlative; as, tallest, shortest.

What did you add to the word tall, to show that the second boy exceeded the first in height?

What was added to the word tall, to show that one boy exceeded all the others in height?

Add er or r to most adjectives of one syllable, to form the comparative; as, tall, taller; wise, wiser.

Add est or st to most adjectives of one syllable, to form the superlative; as, tall, tallest; wise, wises t.

Suppose you are speaking of two boys. You say that one is industrious, and wish to state that the second boy has more of the same quality than the first. What will you say about the second boy?

What will you say about a boy that surpasses them both in industry?

Prefix more or less to most adjectives of more than one syllable, to form the comparative; as, more industrious; less contented.

Prefix most or least to most adjectives of more than one syllable, to form the superlative; as, most industrious; least contented.
A few adjectives of two syllables may be compared by adding er and est; as, -

- noble, nobler, noblest,
- narrow, narrower, narrowest,
- handsome, handsomer, handsomest.

Some adjectives use other words to express different degrees of the same quality; as, -

- good, better, best,
- many, more, most,
- little, less, least,
- bad, worse, worst.

Note. — These forms are called irregular; that is, they are not formed according to the usual rule.

LESSON XV.

THE PARAGRAPH.

THE BUSY BEE.

Let us watch the bees as they pass to and fro from their hive. First of all we see some half-dozen around the door. They are there to warn off intruders. If we approach too near the front of the hive, one of these sentries will dash forward with an angry buzz; and, if we do not wisely take the hint, the brave little soldier will soon return with help from the guard-room to enforce the command.

There are three substances required in the hive,—pollen, or bee-bread, the food of the young bees; wax to make the combs; and honey for the support of the community. The bees that are passing and repassing the sentries are not all laden alike. Some of them have little yellow or red tufts on their legs, others have none. But all that return are laden. Those with tufts on their legs have been collecting pollen from flowers. The honey-gatherers and the wax-gatherers carry their stores in their throats.

To understand how the pollen is carried, we should examine a bee's hind leg with a microscope. The upper joint is flattened, and its edges are surrounded with stiff hairs, which form a sort of basket. When the bee enters a flower, it takes a plunge into the pollen. The pollen is brushed down into the little basket, till a good-sized ball is formed. If the bee cannot complete its load in one flower, it will always seek out another of the same kind. It will not mix the pollen of two different kinds of flowers.

The honey-gatherers and the wax-gatherers draw in the sweet juices from flowers by their trunks. The trunk serves as a mouth and a pump. The liquid passes through this into the throat, and is thus carried to the hive.

Adapted from Good Words for the Young.

What do we first see around the door of the hive? What do these bees do? Why are they called sentries? What is an intruder?

What three substances are required in the hive? What is pollen? What is meant by the community? What are the bees that are passing and repassing the sentries doing?

Describe a bee's hind leg. How does a bee collect pollen?

How do the honey-gatherers and the wax-gatherers collect their stores?

Into how many parts is this selection divided?

The different parts into which a prose composition is divided are called paragraphs.

State the number of paragraphs in this piece, and tell what each is about.

The noun or pronoun that limits the action expressed by a verb is called the object of the verb. Some verbs require objects to complete the meaning. The same verb may require an object in one sentence, and not require one in another.

Which of the verbs above require objects to make the meaning complete? Which do not require objects?

A verb that requires an object is called a transitive verb.

A verb that does not require an object is called an intransitive verb.

A transitive verb that represents its subject as acting is called active. A transitive verb that represents its subject as being acted upon is called passive.

LESSON XXIX.

STUDY OF A DESCRIPTION.

THE OLD ANGLER'S COTTAGE.

I found the old angler living in a small cottage containing only one room, but a perfect curiosity in its method of arrangement.

It was on the skirts of the village, on a green bank, a little back from the road, with a small garden in front, stocked with kitchen herbs, and adorned with a few flowers. The whole front of the cottage was overrun with honeysuckle. On top was a ship for a weathercock.
The interior was fitted up in a truly nautical style, the old angler's ideas of comfort and convenience having been acquired on the berth-deck of a man-of-war. A hammock was slung from the ceiling, which, in the daytime, was lashed up so as to take but little room. From the centre of the chamber hung a model of a ship of his own workmanship. Two or three chairs, a table, and a large sea-chest, formed the principal movables. The mantel-piece was decorated with sea-shells; over which hung a quadrant flanked by two woodcuts of most bitter-looking naval commanders. His implements for angling were carefully disposed on nails and hooks about the room. On a shelf was arranged his library, containing a work on angling, much worn, a Bible covered with canvas, an odd volume or two of voyages, a nautical almanac, and a book of songs.

WASHINGTON IRVING.

What is the title of this piece? What is an angler? What does the first sentence tell? How many rooms were in the cottage? What was a curiosity? Where was the cottage? What is meant by the skirts of the village? Where did the cottage stand? How far back from the road was it? What was in front of the cottage? What did the garden contain? What is an herb? Mention two or three kinds of herbs that are commonly raised in gardens. What else was in the garden? What is the meaning of adorned? What flowers do you think were growing in the garden? Describe the front of the cottage. What was on the top of it? What is a weathercock? What does the third paragraph describe? What is the interior of a house? What is meant by a nautical style? What led the old angler to fit up his cottage in the style of a seaman?

COMPOSITION.

How was his hammock arranged? What hung from the ceiling of the chamber? What movable articles of furniture did the room contain? What decorated the mantel-piece? What hung over it? What is a quadrant? What is meant by the quadrant's being flanked by two woodcuts? What hung on the nails and hooks about the room? Where was the library? Of what books was it composed?
