

C. Other Legislative Issues to Consider

The legislative initiatives discussed in this memorandum represent only the beginning of what you may need to move forward with Victory City. Once Victory City is created, you might need legislative authority to establish, for example, institutions that are traditionally controlled by the government, including the postal system and schools. All of these issues can be addressed at a later date, but you might want to begin considering them now.