

The mammoth waste and inefficiency of these old obsolete cities will be replaced by the new efficient, beautiful but practical cities of the future, Victory Cities.

When something new is created to solve old problems, there are always new problems created. When a victory city is created the chief new problem will arise out of the fact that so many old problems have been solved that people will have an extra large surplus of time and money and they will have to find something to do with both. Of course, we will take this into consideration in the planning of Victory City. Some of the areas that could be expanded are: education, science, culture, recreation, sports, travel. It might even be possible for many to use the extra time and money to unleash their latent inventive genius. This development will tend to work for the benefit of everyone else as well.

In contrast to the old cities' transportation constipation, Victory Cities will have 100% free flowing traffic amid scenic beauty. There will be no old fashioned stop signs and traffic lights. In the super highway system there will be only ramps and cloverleaf type intersections to facilitate free flow traffic 24 hours a day without exception. The highways will converge on a victory city like the spokes of a wheel and also will be connected by gracefully curved ramps to the circular highway which in turn connects with all the other highways.

If a traveler on a Victory City highway is not actually going to Victory City, but some city beyond, he need not go through Victory City at all. He by-passes it simply by taking the circular highway. Try this sometime with any one of the old fashioned obsolete cities.

A Victory City will be built of reinforced poured concrete. It will have metal doors and door frames, metal windows. The outside will be finished in a metal curtain wall with a baked enamel color. The entire building will be both fireproof and soundproof. It will have central heating and air-conditioning throughout.

Even in the most severe winter weather when the snow is knee deep and the temperature is below zero or when it is pouring down rain, you can go anywhere in Victory City without any delay of discomfort or inconvenience.

Gone are the days when you must shovel snow just to get the car out of the garage; no more shovelling snow off of porches, steps and sidewalks, no more heart attacks, no more slipping around on icy streets, no more flu and pneumonia due to being caught in the rain, no more heavy overcoats to tug around, no more hats, gloves, umbrellas, overshoes and boots; no more dangerous streets to cross when the children go to school.
