BATHROOMS - SPECIFICATIONS

stainless steel walls, ceiling & floor fixtures: wash basin, toilet, bathtub or shower, all stainless steel, & welded into walls & floor entire bathroom to be on wheels or rollers plumbing and electrical outlets to be permanently installed in every full size room

A living room can be converted into a bedroom and bathroom combination simply by rolling in the bathroom and hooking it up or a bedroom bath combination can be converted into a living room by rolling the bathroom out again.

These all stainless steel bathroom units could be mass produced and completely finished in a large factory and shipped in quantity to the building site and installed easily and quickly and cheaply. It might be possible to design them in such a way that they could clean themselves automatically on the inside by placing a water spray fixture in the center of the ceiling and this would spray the entire bathroom with hot water containing dissolved detergent. This would be followed by a hot water rinse which would be so hot, the steam from it could be pulled out the exhaust vent in order to dry the bathroom quickly.

The control knobs would be on the outside and wouldn't operate unless the door were closed.

In effect the bathroom could be considered an appliance somewhat similar to a dishwasher.

The hot water containing dissolved detergent would come from a central place and would be used for the whole building in all bathrooms and perhaps for other purposes as well.

There are several types of bathrooms all of which will be standard and mass produced. Only one of these will be on rollers and have the convertibility feature. This one will contain a bathtub and shower combination.
