Dear Mr. Weller:

I was glad to see you again and have a chance to tell you of my efforts with United T. re: Victory City. After the meeting I attempted to reach Harry Gray but his office said he was out and they had not received my letter which was mailed the Thursday preceeding the meeting. On Tuesday I went to his office and allowed the receptionist to make copies of the carbon copy of my letter and Keith Gould's letter to me. They kept Mr. Gould's original letter and a copy of my letter for Mr. Gray.

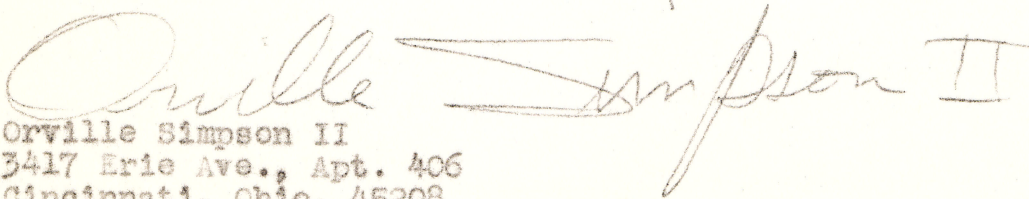

Late Wednesday evening the motel manager gave me a note to phone Richard Curtis. When I phoned him Thursday morning Mr. Curtis said that Mr. Gray was attending an Exxon board or annual meeting. He wanted to send one of his aides over to look at the Victory City exhibit Friday morning. This turned out to be J. Timothy Corcoran, a very handsome, bright and intelligent young man with the title "Manager, Business Development." He looked at the plans for about an hour.

He said he would phone me Monday to let me know if they wanted to pursue the matter further. He also said Mr. Gray never did receive my letter, which was mailed 8 days earlier.

I gave him 5 illustrated books of my city plans to show to Harry Gray and other executives.

I had 100 of these books printed in 1971 and still have most of them. If you could use a copy I would be glad to send you one.

Sincerely,

Orville Simpson II
