

A city all in one building, to be built and operated by private enterprise alone. There will be not one, but many such cities. Eventually the entire world will be covered with a network of Victory Cities. A corporation named Victory City Corp. will be formed to build and operate all Victory Cities.

Victory City is only for those who want it.

Our present day cities are already obsolete and are threatening to engulf the entire countryside and permanently destroy vast areas of our best food producing land.

The word "Victory" represents and commemorates the victory of truth over mythology, of progress over stagnation, of science over superstition, of prosperity over depression, of conservation over wastefulness, of beauty over ugliness, of serenity over tensions, of enchantment over drabness, of wealth over squalor, of cleanliness over dirtiness, of efficiency over inefficiency, of success over failure, of convenience, of comfort over discomfort, of security over insecurity, of happiness over unhappiness.
