Hello Michael,

Just a brief note to let you know we're still working on our general plans for three different galleries in the new building which are candidates for displaying a large model of VC.

I hope you can be patient with us as we try to juggle lots of possible uses and demands on the limited space we have. Please know that we very much respect the incredible time and thought that Mr. Simpson has devoted to this project, and are hopeful that some arrangements can be made for building and housing a high-quality model.

As important as the model is, however, we are also very interested in linking some kind of visitor program -- possibly a school-based workshop -- to the idea of "designing for life in the 21st Century." The specific solutions presented in Victory City demonstrate the wide breadth of possibilities for innovating our own future, and we would like to bring COSI visitors in touch with that spirit.

We will be in contact as soon as we have something more specific to share. In the meantime, thank you for your help, and please extend our warmest wishes for a happy new year to Orville.

Regards,

Joe Wisne
